LADIES WOODMEN CIRCLE CELEBRATES TWENTY-FIFTH ANNIVERSARY

Charter Members Receive Gold Pins—T. Ed. Kellar Master of Ceremonies—E. J. Gex Delivers Address Of Evening—Present Officers

There was a general outpouring of friends and others assembled at Woodmen Hall Monday night, July 15, to pay tribute on the occasion of the twenty-fifth anniversary of Pine Grove Circle, W. O. W., No. 167, of Bay St. Louis, and it was fitting, among others, that Mr. George Heitzman, was accorded a place of honor on the stage. It was Mr. Heitzman, member Cedar Grove Camp, No. 507, W. O. W., who organized the Ladies' Circle twenty-five years ago. It was at his instance the Circle was formed and subsequently received its charter. His wife, a charter member, one the eleven original signers of the charter, was also present.

T. Ed. Kellar Master of Ceremonies

Sheriff T. Ed. Kellar was master of ceremonies and delivered the address of welcome, stating that the word welcome carried with it both the spirit and wide meaning so fitting to the occasion. He gave facts and other classical sources closing his beautiful address with a poem.

Rev. J. E. Gray, pastor First Methodist church, delivered the invocation, feelingly and fittingly, a prayer of gratitude and inspiration.

E. J. Gex Speaks

Principal speaker of the evening was that well-known and lovable citizen, E. J. Gex, a man of character and integrity, who has been with the community for all of his adult life, who has never failed to respond to any and all calls, a man who has ever contributed both his time and means to the betterment of the community and uplifting of its citizens.

Mr. Gex's address was impromptu, extemporaneous, as it were. It was replete with beautiful and fitting expressions of sentiment and devotion. He paid tribute to the group of ladies banded all these years in unity of purpose and his address was one of the high spots of the evening.

Mr. Gex had been selected from a long list of speakers for this occasion and he did justice to the signal honor that had been accorded him on so auspicious an occasion.

The spacious hall of the Woodmen, a building our community well feels proud of, and one on which the construction debt has long been paid, was appropriately decorated for the occasion. Equipped with a battery of large wall fans the place was kept as comfortable and cool as on an evening in early spring.

Honor List

A pin, emblem of the Circle, was presented to each of the charter members, eleven in number, Mr. Kellar making the presentation from the stage in a most acceptable manner. Receiving the gold pins were Mrs. W. L. Bourgeois, Mrs. Charles Henry, Mrs. George Heitzman, Mrs. Henry Betz, Mrs. Leo Blaize, Mrs. Kate Luc, Mrs. Claude Monti, Mrs. George Shearer, Mrs. Zodie Schwall, Mrs. Robert W. Toulme.

Consisting of several varied numbers a floor show was given following the ceremonial program, including quartet singing, fancy dancing, etc. The talent was local and all the more interesting.

Bay St. Louis Municipal Band, under leadership of C. J. Gordon discussed a number of selections throughout the evening. The band improved and delighted lovers of music, also adding to the general festive atmosphere of the celebration.

Following the program, refreshment was served to the large number present, complimentary of the Circle. A birthday cake, in the colors of orange and pink, carrying twenty-five candles was a feature of the refreshment.

JOHNSON ADDRESSES CROWD

Many Hear Former Congressman Speaking In Interest Candidacy For Governor

Judge Paul Johnson, of Hattiesburg, and former Congressman from this district, candidate for governor of Mississippi, addressed a large gathering Wednesday night at an open air rally, held at the intersection of North Beach and Second street. Sheriff T. Ed. Kellar introduced the speaker. By means of Judge Johnson's sound truck it was possible to hear the speaker over a large area.

Judge Johnson made his position clear. He said none need expect favor at his hands when governor if they had failed to be with him, evidently believing in the old saying that to the victor belong the spoils. He said when he shook the persimmon trees there would be none for those who had not kept faith with him.

Judge Johnson said, in part: "In announcing my candidacy for Governor I do so, fully appreciating the importance of the office and the magnitude of the responsibility that will rest upon me if elected. I regard public office as a public trust and not a means for promoting selfish ambition. I am not aligned with any political faction, but am on friendly terms with all the factions."

"From my youth up it has been my ambition to serve my native State as its Chief Executive. I have endeavored to prepare myself, believing that my time would come. By training and experience I believe I am qualified to acquaint myself creditably if chosen as your Governor. The times demand that men in high and responsible office be men of courage, character, and ability. My private life and public career in Mississippi are well known to thousands of citizens of this State. The people have honored me many times with responsible office—I have never betrayed the trust. I have no further political ambition than to serve all the people of the State of Mississippi as their Governor. If my private life and public career meet with your approval, I earnestly solicit your support."

"Looking to Almighty God to give me light to discern the right, I will approach each and every question with an eye single to the welfare of the people of Mississippi."

Here are some of the things Judge Johnson favors:

A network of paved highways over the State, eliminating all grade crossings, and financing the paving by means of Anticipation notes, secured by the income derived from the sale of gasoline. He said, Why ride in the mud until we are old?

"If I am governor, of Mississippi," he said, "I will favor exempting of homesteads from all taxes up to $2500."

"I am in favor of people who have lost their homes being permitted to purchase back from the State as much as forty (40) acres with all improvements thereon, for twenty-five cents (25c) per acre. Mississippi needs home owners and home builders; they will then become tax payers and better citizens by helping to carry their part of the burden of government."

"There are more than two million acres of cut-over lands, most of which was formerly owned by corporations, which have reverted to the State and the State is not now getting revenue from said lands. I am in favor of permitting any head of a family to acquire from the State forty (40) acres of such land for twenty-five cents (25c) per acre, provided he will reside thereupon and cultivate the land."

Free Hospitalization for the Poor. There were several thousand people who died in Mississippi last year without medical attention. Through out the State today there are many thousands of poor people suffering for lack of hospitalization; they are too poor to employ a doctor or to enter private hospitals. These people

WHITE SPEAKS AT KILN

Introduced by Joseph O. Mauffray—Creates Splendid Impression In Country

Hugh White, one of the leading candidates for Governor, spoke to a large number of Hancock county citizens at Kiln on Monday at 2:30 P. M. Many communities of the county were well represented.

Mr. White made a great impression on the people with his plan to balance industries with agriculture to aid the employment situation. The one dollar automobile tag which the speaker is advocating is making him especially popular with the public. Mr. White assured the people, if he were elected Governor of Mississippi, that he would not interfere with county government as he is a firm believer in local self-government.

After hearing Mr. White's speech, explaining his platform, many people expressed themselves as believing Hugh White to be by far the most practical man in the race, and when the votes are counted in Hancock county he will receive his share. The public is now realizing that even though Mr. White may not need the Governor's office to afford him a livelihood, the people are in great need of him in the office to render service to mankind.

Mr. Joseph O. Mauffray, one of the leading citizens of Bay St. Louis very ably presented Mr. White.

Mr. R. P. White, Superintendent of Long Beach School, gave a very impressive talk in behalf of W. F. Bond for State Superintendent of Education. He very clearly showed the people wherein the public is in great need of Mr. Bond's continued service.

Several county officers made brief talks in behalf of their candidacy.

Election Commissioners Engaged In Revising County Poll Books

Hancock County Board Election Commissioners are engaged evenings revising the poll books, preparatory to the first primary election to be held Tuesday, August 6 for both county and State officers. The Board is composed of Randolph J. Ladner, chairman; John Damborino, secretary; Dr. D. H. Ward.

The Commissioners are doing the work in a systematic manner, revising the books of the Beats, beginning with No. 1, Beat 5, (Bay St. Louis Waveland, etc.) will be the last to be purged.

It is found the number of voters has been considerably augmented, approximately 3500 registered, however, of this number considerable are being dropped for various reasons.

All protests and complaints, if any, will be administered to after the books will have been revised. This will facilitate the work, as a whole, it was stated. It is quite a task but the gentlemen composing the board commissioners are painstaking, cautious and thorough.

CANDIDATE STATE TREASURER VISITS BAY ST. LOUIS

D. P. RUFF.

One of the best known citizens of Mississippi and resident of Jackson, leading candidate for State Treasurer, spent Wednesday evening and Thursday morning in Bay St. Louis, interviewing voters and the people in general in the interest of his candidacy. Mr. Ruff is a splendid gentleman, a business man of the Capital City, coupled with experience and ability, if elected, he will serve to the fullest satisfaction of all concerned.

BAY CITY LIBRARY TO SEEK CASH PURCHASE ENCYCLOPEDIA BRIT.

Mrs. C. M. Weeks Selected To Present Current Events Program for August Meeting

An impromptu meeting of the Board of Administrators of the Hancock E. R. A. County Library took place on the morning of Wednesday July 17, where matters of immediate interest to the building up of public interest in the library were discussed. Perhaps the most important result of the meeting was the decision reached by the Board to negotiate, with the help of the City Council and donations from private sources, for the purchase of the 1914 edition of the Encyclopedia Britannica. Miss Louise Crawford made offers of generous contributions to the proposed fund for herself and, by proxy, for her distinguished kinswoman, Mrs. Carol Dale Snedecker, the novelist.

Hitherto, persons desiring to use the Encyclopedia Britannica, that Gibraltar of well assembled and incontrovertible fact, for reference in private, professional or educational work have been forced, if dependent on public sets, to take themselves all the way to Gulfport where the nearest was available; so that the purchase, made possible in this way by the concerted efforts of the Bay St. Louis board and the good will and generosity of the Bay St. Louis City Council, will be the most valuable service yet offered the public thru these channels.

It is requested that the column publish a reminder that for a monthly pledge of fifty cents, or a yearly one of five dollars, books may be drawn from the pay shelves of the library without cost, up to time limits requiring a fine of five cents a day for overdue books.

At the next meeting of The Review of the Month Club, Mrs. C. M. Weeks will present the Current Events program. A review of a biography of the Russian Dancer, Nijinsky, written by his wife, Ramona Nijinsky, will be given by Mrs. L. N. Jacobs. The usual admission fee of ten cents will be charged.

Does Hancock county know that it is particularly blessed in having a public library of its own? Note what the Question and Answer man says on the subject in his column in the New Orleans Times-Picayune:

Q. What proportion of the people of the United States are without public library service?
A. About 37 per cent. Naturally, the people in large cities have such service, small cities are usually provided for, but rural population suffers. New York, New Jersey, Vermont, Rhode Island, New Hampshire, Massachusetts, Maine, Iowa, Connecticut and Delaware have public library service in every county.

To the murder mystery fan who may, by now, be in the mood to cry, "A plague on all encyclopedias and service!" I take this means of suggesting that he may corroborate all the disturbing happenings of the recent talking pictures. The Great Hotel Murder, by obtaining from the library shelves the book of that name by Vincent Starrett from which the talking picture recently shown in the local theater was made.

CIVIC CLUB SPEAKER

Visiting Friend From Denver Is Guest of Rotary Organization Tuesday

With a splendid attendance to greet the guest-speaker of the week, Rev. R. J. Kirschenheuter, C. M., of St. Thomas Seminary, at Denver, Colorado, and a regular summer visitor to Bay St. Louis, addressed members and other guests of Bay St. Louis Rotary Club at the Answer hotel Tuesday night on occasion of the regular weekly meeting, President Joseph R. Scharff presiding.

The guest manifested satisfaction at again being in the midst of members of the club and to be able to participate in the spirit for which Rotary stands. He paid tribute to the organization. He said business men met daily in their usual avocations and regular channels and as such their respective business classifications individualized them. He said, we seemingly only knew them as such, by their pursuit, but at the weekly gathering of the group men became better acquainted individually and since the spirit was for service the benefits could not be overestimated.

He related several anecdotes and his talk proved entertaining and constructive. He was introduced as "well high a citizen of this place" since his annual visits were anticipated, he graciously closed his address with the acceptance of citizenship.

The speaker for next week is one who recently returned from a tour and his subject will be travel. There should be another large attendance.

MONTI IS FORMALLY ANNOUNCED

For Office Sheriff and Tax-Collector Hancock County In Columns The Echo

Claud Monti of Bay St. Louis is formally announced in this issue of The Sea Coast Echo as a candidate for the office of sheriff and tax-collector, Hancock county.

Mr. Monti needs no introduction at our hands. A native of Hancock county and life-long resident of Bay St. Louis he is practically known to every man, woman, and child. He knows everybody in the county and visits nearly every home where he is always welcome. He was a candidate for the same office last four years and it is well remembered how close a second he came to the winner. In fact, it was at first declared unofficially the night votes were counted that he had scored successfully, but a closer count revealed the success of his opponent.

He has been a worker all his life, engaged in business. A man of industry, always diligently applying himself to whatever endeavor he has associated his efforts with and his sincerity has never been questioned.

He is a man of sterling character and his integrity is above reproach. He holds that a public office, given at the hands of the people, is a sacred trust, and, if elected, he says, he will give the duties and responsibilities of the office his undivided attention, personally attending to the various duties which his office provides.

"It has long been a cherished ambition of mine," says Mr. Monti, "to serve the people of my county, the people in whose midst I was born and reared, and when I was first solicited some few years ago to run for the office of sheriff and tax-collector I readily agreed to make the race, realizing that the solicitation was earnest and sincere, that my people wished that I be given an opportunity to serve and if this is realized, as I feel it will, words will fail to adequately express my gratitude and gratification as well."

"The people of Bay St. Louis and balance of Hancock county are a fine lot. They have been very kind and good to me in more ways than one. I have never been mercenary. Money has never attracted me as much as my wish to be able to serve, to be of benefit and to be engaged in constructive endeavor."

"The duties of the office of sheriff and tax-collector are fully prescribed by law. I have no promises to make—that I will do this and do that, save only to carry out the work to the fullest satisfaction of the public as is humanly possible. I wish to give one and all uniform courtesy and attention, to aid the taxpayer and property owner. In brief, to make the office a place where one will always be welcome, be given all information in detail possible and to aid whenever in my power."

Mr. Monti is making a thorough canvass of the county. He is calling on the people at their places of business and at their homes but never to the extent that he would be intruding on the privacy of the home. He does not wish to opportune himself but only to seek and to ask at the proper time and at the proper place.

He asks that his candidacy be given full and proper consideration. He has no fight to make on any one else. Only honorably and diligently seeking election.

CANDIDATE RUFF FOR STATE TREASURER VISITS

D. P. Ruff, well-known resident of Jackson, and with friends over the State, was a visitor here Wednesday evening mingling with voters in the interest of his candidacy for State treasurer. Mr. Ruff is a son-in-law of the late Col. R. H. Henry, for over fifty years editor and publisher of the Jackson Daily Clarion-Ledger.

That residential section of Waveland Beach Boulevard south of Coleman avenue was visited by a fire Tuesday afternoon that involves a total loss conservatively estimated at $25,000, part of which is covered by insurance.

Fire was discovered at about 3 o'clock when smoke coming from the rear of the Dr. G. Gordon Smith duplex apartment building was noted by outsiders and the alarm of fire was given. However, Mrs. Frick, summer resident from New Orleans, occupying the lower apartment heard an unusual sound from the direction of the kitchen and later the cracking and breaking of dishes. Her family out on the beach front had scant time to run into the house and with Mrs. Frick and her grandchild, an infant, narrowly from their escape.

Fire spread rapidly and the house was soon enveloped in flames. The alarm of fire was given and Bay St. Louis fire signal was sounded the local engine and department paraphernalia and fire fighting force was soon down in Waveland. The big intake hose was set into the tide water, which happened to be high and touching the seawall and a heavy stream of water was soon playing on the buildings adjoining.

In the meantime the fire engine at Pass Christian was requisitioned and later one from Gulfport. Both departments responded.

The O. H. Dabecis cottage south of the Gordon Smith property adjoining the residence of Mrs. Ethel Schwartz, was destroyed and to the north of the Smith house property of Charles C. Brown and that of Louis N. Schuyler and of Dr. Joseph J. Wymer (occupied by the Edwards family for the summer) fell prey to the flames.

Good work and heroic effort conquered the fire at the Wymer place, shell of the structure standing, and thus saved the dwelling of Edward C. Carrere and all property north to the head of Coleman avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Carrere were in New Orleans for the day and did not know of what had happened until told on their train returning home. Furniture and other belongings of the Carrere house were hurriedly carried out while the fire raged fiercely next door as a result much damage was done in moving. Mr. Carrere said his loss was covered by various kinds of insurance.

Dr. and Mrs. Gordon Smith had converted their place into a duplex and had the place rented. They carried $3500 insurance with the Merchants Insurance Agency, Bay St. Louis. The place, one of the oldest buildings on Waveland Beach, was conservatively valued at $5,000.

Dr. Wymer, it was stated carried no insurance.

Mr. Dabecis' place was insured with the Merchants Insurance Agency in amount of $2,000.

Both Brown and Schuler places were partially insured with George R. Rea, Bay St. Louis.

It would be hard to particularize but suffice to say residents of Waveland and others gave valued assistance in coping with the fire in more ways than one. Much of the furnishing of the dwellings were saved by individuals who worked regardless of water and fire and other attendant danger. It was only by such measure the damage was checked. The section is one of Waveland's choicest residential beach sections and where the houses are of the better kind and closely built.

APPLICANTS FOR BAY P. O.

The appointment of a postmaster for Bay St. Louis to succeed H. C. Glover, term expired, is looked for at an early date. Applicants for this government position are Laurence Dickinson, Milton A. Phillips, Anthony J. di Benedetto, Leo G. Ford, Coburn L. Weston. Congressman Colmer recommends the appointment, it is understood.

PENNY PARTY NETS NICE SUM

Many children and others attended the benefit penny party at City Park last Thursday evening, benefit Fair Fund Catholic Church. Mrs. Edmund F. Fahey, chairman of the committee in charge, was ably assisted by a number of ladies and gentlemen as well and expresses thanks for this assistance and also for liberal donations. The sum of over thirty dollars was netted.

SENATOR LONG TO THE RESCUE

SENATOR Long of Louisiana scores New Orleans theaters for their absence of vaudeville, making it plain that it is seemingly unparadonable and the lack should be supplied. It is passing strange that a city of the size of our neighbor has not at least one or two vaudeville houses.

Not only New Orleans but in every other community, large and small, people who pay their money, regardless the amount, are well fed up on cheap 'short subjects,' that in the main have neither rhyme nor reason, the number of so-called previews that carry superlatives in the extreme and repeated for days and nights to the patron's disgust and distraction, and last but not least film advertisements that are of stock pattern and fail to fit the local advertiser, making for the ridiculous.

Senator Long has promised that he is going to investigate this absence of vaudeville in New Orleans and will see that the people get it.

But, Senator, there is so much of this so-called vaudeville that smells to heaven, see that the right kind is gotten. Actors and others of questionable ability are foisted on an innocent and helpless public. In the absence of the better kind, Senator, spare us and let well enough alone. Save us from vaudeville that is gross and crude. Keep the so-called singers, dancers and others of the kind off the stage. Get the hook, keep the fool-keeper at work. And, Senator, go a step more and spare us from the congestion of 'pre-views and inane advertisements.' People pay their money for entertainment and not to be bored with so much advertising. It oversteps the limits. Enough should be enough! People do not pay their cold cash to suffer pre-views and advertisements.

TEACHERS AND POLITICS

THE million or more school teachers in the United States were urged to use their political power to gain certain social benefits. The speaker was Dr. John K. Norton, of Columbia University, and he drew considerable interest by his speech to the National Education Association at Denver.

"Political leaders should be brought to realize that teachers will not be satisfied with meaningless platitudes with which candidates for public office have claimed their votes," he said. "Teachers must demand to know the attitude of candidates toward child labor, development of social security, programs, the modes of tax systems, and similar issues which go to the roots of a candidate's social philosophy."

There is always a danger in urging a minority to form an aggressive unit in politics. The menace comes in the members of the particular group forgetting the high altruism and patriotism which may have caused them to unite for unselfish causes and perverting the purpose of the political power thus welded into a selfish effort to gain personally. It will be noticed that in Dr. Norton's statement above no reference was made to the salaries of teachers—how long would a class conscious group, armed with political power, overlook the possibility of private gain?

GULF COAST RESORTS ATTRACT

MISSISSIPPI Gulf Coast as a summer resort is at zenith just now and visitors from all parts are out to the great seashore playground. Waters of the gulf afford cooling, invigorating breezes, swimming and the main waters and tributaries fishing.

Highways and byways, hardsurfaced, skirting the waters of the gulf for many miles afford motorist a pleasure that never lags and similar trips are offered through piney woods that invigorate with equal zest as the salt air breezes from the gulf.

Mississippi is rich in this favored spot. Our neighbors from other States are not slow to recognize the appeal of such summer resort and it is no wonder thousands multiplied journey hither and bask outdoors in one of nature's greatest and alluring spots.

POSSIBLY

THE latest discovery of science indicates that the brain of a sleeping person is active and extremely sensitive. For example, electric waves are caused by sounds too light to awaken the sleeper, such as coughing, rustling paper, or a low conversation. The investigators report that the same sounds do not cause the waves when the individual is awake.

This will probably point the way for some citizens to become useful. Awake they do not seem to suffer any kind of electric waves in the brain. Possibly, by putting them to sleep, the cortex might work.

WHAT THE COUNTRY NEEDS

THE United States Treasurer reports the receipt of a check for $67.00 from a man in Covington, Ky. It seems that the Kentuckian was a work relief beneficiary in 1933. He now pays the government $67.00 and says he will send the balance, $40.00, in a few months. What the country needs today is a few million citizens like this man in Kentucky.

ORGANIZATION ROUNDS QUARTER OF CENTURY

THERE is just cause for congratulation on occasion of twenty-fifth anniversary of one of Bay St. Louis' outstanding women's organization Ladies Woodmen Circle, No. 167, which event was celebrated on Monday of this week, July 15.

Bay St. Louis, for city of its size, far exceeds the average size community for number of successful and influential organizations, be they religious, fraternal, commercial, social and otherwise. There is a club or society for every interest in various paths of community life, bodies indicating both strength and character, accomplishing things that the individual singly could not do. Whether it be for the civic good or otherwise our folk are banded in unity and the functions of their organizations never fall short.

An ideal instance of this kind is the Ladies' Woodmen Circle essentially a fraternal order, but the ladies have gone this objective more than one better—serving in varied capacity, participating in commendable endeavor.

An interesting phase of the Circle on this occasion is to note that among the more active members are the one and same of twenty-five years ago. The ladies have never lagged in their interest. They worked unceasingly and unfalteringly. Their organization has gone through periods that well prove the acid test. They not only weathered times of repeated epidemics but gave generous and telling aid in time of stress; they have weathered depression and all periods when the human spirit falls to the zero level and hands let go. To review the history of doing of the Circle would take more space than allotted here.

We recall instances when they have given cash contributions to public cause time and again. They have aided every patriotic movement and during the war were well in front with other units of this community. A quarter of a century of existence through life's daily vicissitudes is record alone, but to be of consistent service, to be of benefit to every man, woman and child, so to speak, to serve the community as whole, in addition to their own fraternal work, is well worthy of meritorious and honorable mention, at least.

The Echo congratulates the Woodmen Ladies' Circle on their Silver Anniversary. May their numbers increase and work continue and there will be double cause for felicitation and celebration on the occasion for their Golden Anniversary.

CANDIDATES AND PRINTING

DURING the campaign, now drawing to a close in Hancock county, the printing office and plant run in conjunction with The Sea Coast Echo newspaper, has printed the bulk of literature used by candidates. We have had our goodly share of this work, giving our customers only such first class work as is possible to be turned out by a plant fully equipped with automatic and modern machinery as ours, and with skilled men in our employment. So we have no cause for complaint and no one to criticize. We are thankful. And in every instance we feel we have given full value received.

In instances, however, regardless of the circumstance, there has been printing sent out of town. A principle that is fundamentally wrong and no man who is thus inclined and believes in buying away is going to make, if elected, the right kind of official as far as principal is concerned. Think of the man who buys his groceries and other commodities out of town—and it is done—what kind of a citizen is this? What kind of a community will we have if all patronage is sent beyond our own confines?

The old gag of the candidate who sends his printing away is: "You know a friend of mine gave me these cards." "This printing was a present," and so on. Even if the truth it is as damnable as the lie.

The old adage of 'Fight the devil with fire' still holds. And any candidate who has failed to patronize home industry needs not expect such favors at home as we may control. It is a poor policy to give a fellow a stick to knock you over the head with.

The Echo employs several men—heads of family, people who spend in Bay St. Louis and Hancock county every cent they earn. They help to make the community. They help to make this place where you may live and earn a living. They, as a whole are a potent factor. They count. They are at least entitled to consideration, all things being equal.

IS WORLD HEALTH BETTER?

INFORMATION gathered by the League of Nations seems to show that in 1934, the fifth year of the depression, the death rate of the world declined and the population rate rose.

At first glance, this seems to indicate that hard times do not affect the health of people as much as most of us thought. However, some authorities hold that the public is now reaping the benefit of many years of patient research and former years of good health. They seem to think that the figures ten years from now may reflect more accurately the deterioration of public health as a result of the depression.

Hospitals closed for lack of funds, a lower standard of living for the unemployed, and the general decline in the practice of physicians cannot be ignored, and inevitably will have a bad effect in the future.

IN THE PELOCAN STATE

WITH the thermometer at 93 in New Orleans last week that was seemingly not hot enough, and political forces in fight for supremacy in Louisiana staged quite a sensational climax to a fight of long standing when leaders of the Old Regular Organization entered into a coalition with Senator Long's forces. District Attorney Stanley resigned rather than remain and Mayor Wainwright refused to leave the burning leak, even though fighting many odds. Further developments are awaited with interest, even though Louisiana's affairs are none of ours. Verily, 'politics make strange bedfellows.'

IT'S TRUE!

By Wiley Padan

"IT'S TRUE!" that a unique detail in "Escapade" is the use of recordings by the late Enrico Caruso, amplified to operatic level with augmented orchestration, for the Vienna Opera sequence, says artist Padan. "The most life-like reproduction of the tenor's voice ever achieved was successfully made!"

INTERESTING NEWS ITEMS OF THE MOVIES AND FILM FOLK IN HOLLYWOOD

LOCAL THEATER AND FILMS

THE A. & G. Theater scored quite a hit last week-end presenting "Naughty Marietta" Sunday and Monday nights to large audiences at each performance both evenings.

Jeanette McDonald, with that rare combination of both voice and good looks was manifestly at her best and Nelson Eddy, playing the opposite shares equal honors with Miss McDonald, both as to voice and appearances. His masculine beauty is of the handsome and substantial kind.

Thanks to the management of the A. & G. for this unusual attraction. We will await the coming of Grace Moore's new film in due time. Miss Moore is quite at her best but her opposite lead, with his fine tenor voice—and a tenor has to be very good to be good—comes near stealing the show.

Mae West, in a picture of an entirely different atmosphere, is soon due in Bay St. Louis. Mae has quite a stock of new wisecracks and Bay St. Louis auditors, many of whom are ardent admirers of the inimitable West will await and enjoy the talky film with zest and pleasure.

No one will want to miss Margaret Sullivan in "The Good Fairy" that comes to Bay St. Louis next week. We have seen the film and recommend it. Choosing your future husband from the telephone directory, with eyes shut, is not so bad after all. See it—Margaret Sullivan has never been at her best since her memorable film, "Only Yesterday."

Miss Ames will no doubt show "In Agua Caliente" at no distant date. This, to our liking, is one of the best and snappiest musical comedies that has registered to our particular liking. You will want to see and hear it at least twice. A high feature is the song and chorus, "The Lady in Red," originally presented.

BILLIE BURKE has been signed to play the part of the temperamental actress in "A Feather in Her Hat," Ruth Chatterton's first starring picture with Columbia Pictures. In the preview of "Anna Karenina," most of the critics say that Garbo has rediscovered the proper type of medium for her talents. Marion Davies has the starring part in "Page Miss Glory," with Dick Powell, Pat O'Brien and Mary Astor supporting. This film will be released next month. Two other pictures to be released next month will be Joe E. Brown's "Broadway Joe" and "The Irish in Us," with James Cagney, Pat O'Brien and Frank McHugh.

The leading roles in "Barbary Coast," which is being made now, are taken by Miriam Hopkins, Edward G. Robinson and Joel McCrea. Miriam Hopkins has also been selected for the lead in Edna Ferber's novel, "Come and Get It," the screen rights having been bought by Samuel Goldwyn.

Edward G. Robinson and Bette Davis share co-starring honors in "Money Man." Carol Stone, youngest daughter of Fred Stone, has been signed by RKO for Gene Stratton Porter's "Freckles." Warner Baxter will have the name role in "Robin Hood of El Dorado." Norma Shearer has a new daughter only a few weeks old. She has denied rumors that she would go on the stage to play in "Romeo and Juliet." She says, however, that if it is made into a movie, she hopes to have the part of Juliet. Maurice Chevalier plays a fast, good game of tennis.

Peaches Browning has a small part in one of Bing Crosby's productions. Lawsuits totalling over $500,000 have been issued against Jackie Coogan, because of an automobile accident in which four people were killed.

WHAT THE PRESS IS SAYING OF MEN AND MATTERS IN EDITORIAL EXPRESSION

THE LOW DOWN ON THE HIGHER UPS

(Frederick Sullens in Jackson Daily News)

THERE is, and has been since the beginning, ample opportunity for our candidates for Government to make it the most notable Mississippi has had in years; to bring forward real issues; to present platforms of vital importance; to discuss matters that vitally concern the people. Instead of so doing, they are either wasting their time on cheap personalities, quarrelling about who supported who in former contests, or offering cheap nostrums and quick remedies for imaginary ills—free school books, free hospitalization, homestead exemptions, auto license exemptions, etc., all of which strikes the thinking citizens as ridiculous in the light of present world conditions.

A forest of substantial timber is at hand, yet aspirants for Governor build their platforms with reeds and straw.

It is up to Governor Conner to say whether or not Mississippi shall have $48,000,000 roadbuilding program, $30,000,000 of the cost to be paid by the Federal government. The program cannot be put through unless authorized by the legislature, and Gov. Conner is the only person who has power to convene the legislature. In other words Mike is on the spot. Is he big enough to forget or thrust aside his political feud with the Highway Commission and let the program go ahead?

Dr. Jim Rice, Natchez physician, chief foe of Gov. Conner's sale tax, still holding firm to his former opinions, is a candidate for the legislature down in Adams county and making it an issue with his opponents. He promises a fight for repeal of the measure if elected.

The lady of the house was taking an afternoon nap. It had been a very busy day with her. Household duties had been heavy and tiresome. The weather was hot. A violent ringing of the doorbell. She dressed hastily and answered. There at the door stood a candidate poking in his card. "Do you think he will get that lady's vote?" Not in a million years.

Another harbinger of better business in this state is the announcement that, effective July 21st, the Mississippi Central will resume double-daily train service between Hat-

LABOR LOSES

Labor benefits less than capital from the increases that accompany a boom, and suffers more quickly when prices go down, according to a study made by the Planning and Research Division of the N.R.A. This shows that the 1923-25 labor dollar moved up to $1.20 by 1929, but dropped to 65 cents in 1933. The income dollar of capital, however, moved up to $1.65 in 1929, and only fell to 98 cents in 1933.

Bill Curry is stopping a while with his grandparents Mr. and Mrs. Albert Briede.

Miss Elizabeth Wells has returned home after visiting relatives in New Orleans and Memphis.

The street dance on Waveland avenue proved quite a success. A record crowd attended and every one had a jolly time.

A farewell party was given in honor of Pompilio Romero of Spanish Honduras on the occasion of bidding adieu to his friends in Waveland. Among those present were the Misses Hazel Herlihy, Katherine Chadwick, Ruth Monteleone, Millie Jean Carver, Margie Traina, Nola Rita Morrere; Messrs. Herman Mazurakis, Larry Jacobi, Milton Favre, Jack Evans, Focile Favre, Bradley Mazurakis and Mrs. Wilson Guenard, chaperon.

The stork presented Mr. and Mrs. Alan Carver an adorable baby girl. Mother and baby are doing well.

We wish to express our regret and sympathy to the residents who suffered losses from the fire when they were forced to evacuate their homes with a heavy loss of clothing and jewelry. Mr. J. P. Morrere and son Herlihy came to the rescue with his fire apparatus, but unfortunately lost several hundred feet of hose by burning. The volunteer help acted wonderfully and we know that sufferers from the fire deeply appreciate and thank all those who assisted. Mr. George Herlihy, Postmaster, and Mr. George Rea of Bay St. Louis were instrumental in securing the aid of the fire department.

The excitement of the fire proved too much for Mrs. Ethel Schwartz and she collapsed. She is resting quietly and we trust that she will have no ill effects.

We sincerely regret to hear of the death of Rev. Henry H. Ahrens, father of Mr. Wesley Ahrens formerly of Waveland. We extend our sympathy to all members of the family.

The Waveland plumbers, Ladner and Russell caught a black widow spider and has it on display at the Waveland Drug Store.

A stray spark from the beach fire ignited the front awning at the home of Mr. Albert Briede. A large hole was burned before it could be extinguished.

FULL LENGTH FILMS IN COLOR WATCHED WITH INTEREST

Debut of "Becky Sharp" will Bring Radical Change," Says Report From Hollywood

By ROBBIN COONS

Hollywood—That the recently predicted "color revolution" in pictures will be a bloodless one if it materializes, Hollywood feels assured after seeing "Becky Sharp," the picture calculated to upset the old regime of black-and-white photography.

It was a foregone conclusion even before the preview that there would be more pictures in the new color process. The producers of "Becky Sharp" already had announced future films, and other Technicolor contracts had been let. Besides, there was a decided "color consciousness" on the part of producers who were

JEAN HARLOW AND WILLIAM POWELL IN "RECKLESS" SCORE

Miss Harlow Wins New Plaudits With Her Singing and Dancing

The two most talked of stars in Hollywood come to the screen as a new co-starring team in the picture, "Reckless," to be shown Sunday and Monday at the A. & G. Theater. And those two stars are Jean Harlow and William Powell.

The picture is one of the most thrilling and colorful ones in recent months. It is the story of a beautiful blonde dancer who rises from a back-country carnival dancer to the golden lights of Broadway, a dancing star who becomes a nation-wide sensation, who marries a playboy with millions, who captures society by her charm.

Fights For Her Name

It is a story of a girl who becomes tangled in front page sensational through the suicide of her husband, who fights for her name, for her child—a story of her bravery and decency, her courage and her hope, with one man in the background who has always loved her and understood her and who come to her rescue.

Miss Harlow plays her best role since "Red-Headed Woman," as the torch singer and dancer, Mona Leslie. Too, she appears for the first time as a singing and dancing star, appearing in the dazzling musical numbers written by a host of well-known composers, headed by Jerome Kern.

William Powell plays the role of Ned Riley, the promoter of everything from flea circuses to bearded wrestler, as only Powell can play it. The music and the dance numbers that serve as background for the thrilling story was contributed by such musical czars as Jerome Kern, Oscar Hammerstein II, Con Conrad, Herbert Magidson, Jack King, Edwin Knopf, Burton Lane and Harold Adamson, and assuredly will become some of the outstanding song hits of 1935.

Fanchot Tone again comes to us as the millionaire playboy who first wins Miss Harlow's heart, and whose suicidal act drags her from the pedestal of fame into the mud of scandal.

As a whole, "Reckless" is crowded with plenty of color, life, beauty, music and gaiety. Producer David O. Selznick, with the plaudits for "David Copperfield" still ringing in his ear, and Director Victor Fleming have forgotten nothing in their efforts to make the film one long to be remembered.

Cost Slight

Sound was an earthquake in Hollywood and throughout the film exhibiting world. It requires millions in new equipment at the studios and in the theaters. Color, even should its use become widespread at once, which is improbable because the Technicolor company does not wish a repetition of its early experience with overproduction and consequent haste and carelessness in handling, will cost comparatively little.

So much poppycock from the beginning were the reports that color would affect adversely certain stars, rendering their value less in the same way talkies ousted many big names of the silent who could not "talk." If there were doubts on this score, the preview cleared them. In the leading role is Miriam Hopkins, blonde among blondes, and in support is Frances Dee, a brunette. The color camera is supposed to prefer blondes, but Miss Dee registers in her way as effectively as Miss Hopkins.

Designed in Color

"Becky Sharp," as "designed in color by Robert Edmond Jones," the noted stage designer, and as directed by Rouben Mamoulian, is a film regarded as sure to create considerable interest. Jones' color effects, especially in the big ballroom scenes of festivity in Brussels just before the battle of Waterloo, demonstrates what he and other color proponents have been talking about—the "dramatic use" of color. Although the period is one requiring brilliance in costume—which was one of the reasons, "Becky Sharp" was chosen to demonstrate color—the hand of the "color designer" is seen to advantage.

Miriam Hopkins' portrait of the sly vixen is—entirely aside from the color novelty—one of the film's strong points, along with the performance of Miss Dee, Cedric Hardwick, Nigel Bruce, Alan Mowbray, Alison Skipworth, and other players.

People who have taken Black-Draught naturally are enthusiastic about it because of the refreshing relief it has brought them. No wonder they urge others to try it. Mrs. Joe G. Black-Draught is good for constipation, biliousness, headache, which I used to have. It is a purely vegetable medicine."

MISSISSIPPI DEMOCRATS:

During my term as State Tax Collector, I have collected One Million, Forty-Three Thousand, and Fifty-Four Dollars ($1,043,054.00) for the State, Counties, Municipalities, and Taxing Districts and every dollar of it has been faithfully accounted for. This money would have been lost to the taxpayers but for my faithful and diligent efforts.

In the discharge of the duties of the office I have always been fair, just and considerate to all who have had business with the office. I ask for election to a second term, which is the customary endorsement usually accorded by the Democratic Party to a faithful public servant.

I am toting my own skillet and leaving the skillet of candidates for other offices alone.

Faithfully,

LABOR SET-UP

The new collective bargaining set-up contained in the National Labor Relations' Bill provides for a majority vote to select the workers' agency, disqualification of company unions and authority for a Labor Board to prevent "unfair labor practices," such as discrimination for union activities.

TAX FOR PENSIONS

A bill to provide pensions for rail workers and to replace the Act recently declared unconstitutional, levies a six per cent tax on payrolls, one-third to be paid by employers and two-thirds by employees. Thus the pensions will rest on the power of taxation rather than on the right to regulate interstate commerce.

BEAUTIFUL HOMES ALONG THE BAY-WAVELAND BEACH BOULEVARDS.

Bay St. Louis and Waveland beach front have long been known for the long line of spacious and inviting dwellings houses, that in many instances serve as summer homes and where owners visit for week-ends during mild winter periods.

Mrs. John N. Stewart has one of the picturesque and beautiful villas on the beach strand, in Bay St. Louis. Last year purchasing a dwelling of other days adjoining her place, she had the house demolished and land merged with that of her own immediate premises and both places now form one sweep of green sward. A gateway entrance to the front of the villa was recently completed. This was designed by one of the better architects in New Orleans and the brick and cement work contract was carried out by that artisan in his line, H. Wilbur Driver, forming a gateway picture one often sees in monthly better homes and garden magazines. The gateway is a picture indeed.

On the Waveland beach Mr. Fortune Jaubert, of New Orleans, and summer resident here for the past several seasons, recent purchaser of the original Hellwege, Jr., place, has had a force of contractors and workmen renovating and remodeling the place to the extent that a veritable transformation has taken place. The land has been terraced in gentle sloping lines, held at the bottom by a low cement revetment. The Jaubert home, nearing completion, will prove an outstanding acquisition to the fashionable Waveland residential shore line.

Mr. and Mrs. B. C. Casanas have added considerably to the appearance of the home they purchased last year at Nicholson avenue and Beach. Flowering plants of various colors, vibrant in tones, never fail to attract the passerby.

Mrs. Joseph Chalona is another lover of the garden and of the beautiful. Her garden on Clermont Beach is a spot of beauty and joy. Wide walkways of various colors, trellises and various conceits here and there of originality add lasting joy and make for a most pleasing prospect. Mr. and Mrs. Chalona are justly proud of the miniature forest of virgin pines that surround their villa on its high pillars.

The former Roy place on the Bay Beach, with its spacious yard and spreading oaks, the show place of the Coast, awaits someone seeking an ideal and beautiful home. Recently renovated, redecorated by the brush of an artist, the palatial dwelling awaits some fortunate purchaser who will sooner or later get the place. It is one of the few of the better places on the market.

MRS. JOS. B. SIMMONS ENTERTAINS PASS CHRISTIAN GARDEN CLUB.

Refreshment was served at the conclusion of the program and Mrs. Simmons entertained lavishly and her well known hospitable manner. Having leased her villa for the balance of the season she will leave Monday, accompanied by her family, on an extended tour of travel.

JUDGE PAUL JOHNSON ADDRESSES BAY CROWD

are Mississippians and it is our duty to care for them. Other States are doing it—let Mississippi do as much. We spend millions of dollars each year preserving the lives of hogs, cattle and poultry, but we overlook the poor of Mississippi. We are our brother's keeper and it is our duty to help the people who cannot help themselves.

If I am governor, I promise the people of Mississippi I will exert every effort to give to all sections of the State of Mississippi free hospitalization for the unfortunate poor."

Free School Books

I am reliably informed that there are twenty thousand white school children in Mississippi who are unable to attend public school on account of having no school books. Such a condition is a reflection on Mississippi. Our government is reflected in its citizenship. How can we build and grow a great people in such a situation? I am more interested in the boys and girls in Mississippi than I am in factories. Ignorance and illiteracy are the greatest enemies of mankind. I want to see every child have at least an elementary education.

Therefore, I will favor free school books through the elementary grades for every school child in the State. Many of the States of the Union are doing that much for their children—Why not Mississippi?

Automobile License

The automobile is no longer a luxury for the rich. It is a necessity for practically all the people today. There is no excuse for the unreasonable tax required of the automobile owner for the privilege of operating over highways. The more automobiles we operate, the more gasoline we use. A small privilege tax will encourage the operation of automobiles and bring more revenue to the State than we are now deriving from that source. I have made investigations in other States, and I find ioners Church Our Lady of the Gulf will be given again this year, and somewhat earlier, since Saturday and Sunday, August 3 and 4 has been selected.

As a fitting setting, and where the cool breezes blow from the distant vastness of the gulf, the front lawn of St. Stanislaus College grounds has again been selected. Ladies in charge will decorate the lawn and various booths in gala attire and color and our many visitors for the summer, who anticipate this annual affair, will anticipate and realize the usual pleasure. For our summer visitors the season would be lacking were there no fair and bazaar for the church.

Mrs. Edmund F. Fahey is general chairman of the benefit, assisted by the number of usual workers who assist with the fullest co-operation and telling results.

The pastor, Very Rev. Gmelch, always appreciative of any and all efforts, is solicitous for the continued success of the annual event.

Religious Editor Dies at New Orleans; Interment at Metairie

The Rev. H. H. Ahrens, former pastor the Methodist Episcopal Church South and religious editor, died at his residence. Funeral services were held at New Orleans with burial in Metairie cemetery.

Mr. Ahrens was a native of Palestine, La., and had been a resident of New Orleans for 40 years. He formerly was pastor of Parker Memorial church and the Second Methodist church at that city. At one time he was religious editor of the Times-Picayune.

that it not only helps the poor, who are unable to pay a heavy privilege, but it will actually produce more revenue.

Therefore, I will favor a $3.00 privilege tax for automobiles.

No Bonds for Current Expenses
Believing that Mississippi should not spend more than she takes in, I will oppose all bond issues for current expenses. I will not approve any Appropriation Bill until the money is provided to meet the appropriation.

War Veterans

I hold in imperishable memory the valor and patriotism of the soldiers of the late World War and Spanish-American War who fought for human liberty and who made it possible for this Government to endure; and I pledge myself to support every reasonable measure which any grateful State justly should fulfill in appreciation of the services rendered by its defenders.

Mississippi for Mississippians
I favor a law that will require the use of Mississippi material and Mississippi labor to the exclusion of all other labor and material in the building of Highways, public buildings, and other public works supported in whole or in part by money derived from taxation.

Uphold Enforcement of State Law
Believing that there is a general breakdown in the morals of the country, which is largely attributable to the lack of law enforcement, and realizing the peace and happiness of the people depend upon their security, it will be my purpose as Governor of Mississippi to exert the influence of the office in the interest of the law and order, always having in mind that justice should be tempered with mercy.

Abolish Unnecessary Bureaus
I promise the people of Mississippi if the Legislature will cooperate with me, I will abolish these unnecessary bureaus and useless jobs.
